I. Purpose

The purpose of this Written Directive is to provide information to the University of Maryland, Baltimore Police Force (UMBPF) members regarding job task analysis, job classification plans, and statements of duties and responsibilities.

II. Policy

It shall be the policy of the UMBPF that all jobs in the Agency be classified in a manner consistent with the job task analysis and description for that position. Over time, classifications will be reviewed and changed as the needs of the Agency are reassessed.

III. Job Task Analysis

A. Objectives

The UMBPF job task analysis objectives are to serve as a basis for the determination of a position classification plan, compensation, provide a basis for establishing minimum qualification requirements for recruitment, examination, selection, appointment, promotion, assist in the establishment of training curricula, and to provide guidance to employees and their supervisors concerning the duties and responsibilities of individual positions.

B. Written Job Task Analysis

1. Statements of the duties and responsibilities for each position within the UMBPF are available to all personnel as stated below.
2. The position descriptions in the Job Classification appendix include:
 - a. The relative importance of the tasks;
 - b. The minimum level of proficiency necessary in the job related skills, knowledge, ability, and behavior;
 - c. The means by which these characteristics may be acquired;
 - d. Minimum qualifications; and

- e. Methods of measuring or testing for these characteristics.
3. The Office of Human Resource Services together with the UMBPF will periodically conduct a job analysis of each position.
 4. In addition, the Maryland Police Standards and Training Commission (MPSTC) incorporated performance based objectives relevant to the work of Maryland Police Officers in their mandated entrance level training for police officers. This performance oriented program is taught in the State of Maryland by certified police academies.
 5. The MPSTC monitors and audits all police academies to ensure that the task oriented objectives are being taught and to ensure that entry level officers acquire the minimum level of proficiency necessary for their job related skills.

C. Position Description

The position analysis conducted by the Office of Human Resource Services includes the duties, responsibilities, and tasks of each position. In addition, the frequency with which each task is performed and how critical the job related skills, knowledge, abilities, and behaviors are also analyzed.

IV. Development and Maintenance of Job Classifications

A. Classification

The University of Maryland, Baltimore maintains written specifications for each job class in the classification plan. The written specifications include the grouping of every job into classes based upon similarities in duties, responsibilities, qualification requirements, class specifications for every job within a class, provisions for relating compensation to classes, and provisions for reclassification.

B. Role of the Organization

1. All supervisory personnel are responsible to help ensure job classifications are kept current and when changes occur to make recommendations concerning revisions.
2. Position descriptions will be reviewed periodically and recommendations concerning position descriptions will be forwarded to the Support Services Commander.
3. Review of job descriptions will be conducted by each Bureau Commander every four (4) years. Each Commander will forward any recommended changes to the Chief of Police. The Chief of Police will forward any changes in job classification or specifications to the Office of Human Resource Services for evaluation and approval.

C. Review and Revision

On an annual basis (normally as part of the budgetary process) the Chief of Police provides input to the Associate Vice President for Human Resource Services as to changes recommended in regards to classification.
