Q&A with Dawn Rhodes, Chief Business and Finance Officer and Vice President

Update from Dawn Rhodes
- Uptick in crime on campus; very proud of the UMB police department for their efforts in apprehending a suspect in the recent armed robberies.
- Will be looking at adding additional resources to increase the visibility of officers.
- Our campus over time, based on Clery reporting, is a safe campus; it is recognized that it can be scary and unsettling when incidents happen.

Q&A
- LaToya Lewis: concerned about a lack of vending machines in all buildings
  - Dawn Rhodes: This is handled by Student Affairs; Dawn will share this information with them.
- LaToya Lewis: Questioned whether Environmental Services staff have space to take breaks/eat lunch in buildings
  - Dawn Rhodes:
    - Focus group meetings were done with Environmental Services staff and it was found that all do not have space available.
    - This has to do with the culture of each building and employees need to be reminded of core values.
    - We are looking at providing resources to create spaces across campus.
    - Will consider the idea of a policy to address this.
    - Kristy Novak: This is an opportunity to embrace our core values and talk about the RockStar Campaign.
MaryBeth Gallico: Suggests using this as an example when talking about civility and what civility means.

Kristy Novak: Executive Committee can work with Dawn Rhodes and draft a letter from the Senate to Dr. Perman/campus on this topic.

Casey Jackson: Can we also include Multi-Trades employees in this letter.

Dawn Rhodes: Would welcome this support. Focus groups with Multi-Trades did not reveal the same level of issues with civility.

Casey Jackson: Question about the Live Near Your Work Program; an employee mentioned to her that there was a question of relaxing the requirement for the home to be owned for 5 years to reap the benefit or to allow homes to be rental properties.

Dawn Rhodes: The mission is to support stabilization of communities and support employees. In order to focus on this mission, we are not looking to allow this program to establish rental properties or relax the 5 year requirement.

Mary Phelan: There seems to be a change of practice in the notification about incidences on campus. For example, an incident happened in a parking lot that was not reported through an emergency notification, but was reported the next day. Can you clarify why/when incidents are reported?

Dawn Rhodes: We follow Clery Reporting Laws: incidents must be an imminent danger to the campus community to report via emergency notification (text messages). Other incidents are reported after the fact as a Timely Warning to explain what has happened. Incidents that occur off-campus (i.e. at the hospital) may not always be known to UMB Police, as they are handled by the Baltimore City Police Department. We are working to clarify this reporting procedure and will open this up to comments by staff before the procedure is finalized.

LaKeisha Wilson: Concerned about the shuttle service no longer being offered at no cost. Some employees have moved to certain areas because of the availability of a free shuttle; others use the shuttle for safety reasons.

Dawn Rhodes: There are two shuttles. The shuttle that takes people from home to campus is the shuttle that will now have a fee. There will be no additional fees to students because this is already part of student fees. Faculty/Staff will now have to pay a fee to ride the shuttle.

The safe shuttle is free and available to everyone to travel from one side of the campus to the other.

LaKeisha Wilson: When will the notice go out to employees regarding the fee that will be charged beginning in January?

Dawn Rhodes: Information has gone out already; based on this conversation we will send out information again to make sure everyone is aware that the fee will begin in January. There will be per-ride options and monthly options.

Christina Fenwick: Who will be the contractor in the future?

Dawn Rhodes: An RFP is being prepared for an open procurement process.

Shareese Essien: Now that we can ride MTA for free, this may have a bearing on how many people will ride the shuttle.

Dawn Rhodes: We will track volume and respond accordingly.

Old Business

New Faculty Senate Liaison: Amy Daniels, School of Nursing
• Strategic Planning Process (Kristy Novak)
  o Formed an ad-hoc committee to focus on Strategic Planning. The initial Committee Meeting was held 10/30/19. The following themes were discussed.
    ▪ Increase staff engagement across campus via:
      • Working with campus partners to develop Staff Councils at each UMB
        school/business unit
      • Advocating for greater staff engagement through changing the campus culture to encourage supervisor support
      • Enhancing communication methods to notify staff of events, professional development opportunities, etc. so that communication is more accessible and relevant to our diverse staff
      • Promoting staff recognition at all levels
      • Increasing participation in community engagement events by breaking down barriers to participate • Collaborating with HR to work towards better salary equity and work/life balance (do we want to tackle this?)

Discussion:
  o Amy Daniels: It would be very helpful to share this information with the Faculty Senate to hear what the Staff Senate is focusing on.
  o Casey Jackson: What is meant about whether we want to tackle the final bullet about salary equity issues?
    ▪ Kristy Novak: Since HR is already working on a survey study, is this something that Staff Senate can impact?
    ▪ Casey Jackson: It would still be great to have staff input on this discussion in addition to the work that HR is doing.
    ▪ Mary Beth Gallico: Would like to review/think about and come back with comments. Per the issue with HR, this is their mission – our role could be to advocate.
    ▪ LaToya Lewis: It would be important for Staff Senate to maintain an overview of this process with HR.
    ▪ Kristy Novak: We will work on re-writing to insert Staff Senate in a consulting/advocacy role.
    ▪ Ayamba Ayuk-Brown: It is meaningful for other staff to know that the Staff
      Senate is addressing this issue.
    ▪ Hillary Edwards: Keep in mind when working with HR, there are also policies about how large salary increases can be, etc. Staff Senators should ensure that HR is taking these types of issues into consideration.
    ▪ Colette Beaulieu: It is reasonable that Staff Senate keep salary issues on the table and hold HR to timelines and results.

• January Town Hall Event: In Celebration of Staff Senate’s 25th Year
  o January 27, 3 – 5 p.m., Elm Room B o For the first hour, hold a panel/Q&A with UMB senior leadership
  o For the second hour, have tables with multiple groups on campus (HR, URecFit, Faculty Senate, CEC, etc.) and hold a reception with time to mingle w/ the Experts
  o Working w/ University Life Committee on Planning
New Business Items

- Membership Transition
  - Resignation from Staff Senate by Lois Warner
    - Alternate Casey Jackson will become voting member
    - Welcome Emma Barkman as new Staff Senate Alternate
  - Resignation from Staff Senate by Kevin Watson
    - Alternate Michael Azen will become voting member
    - Will reach out to Janet Thomas, next in line as alternate
  - The Staff Senate wishes to extend official recognition of Lois Warner (Community Outreach Committee) and Kevin Watson (Communications Committee) for their many contributions and years of service to the Staff Senate.
  - Riham Keryakos: Suggest Certificate of Appreciation for these two outgoing Senators
  - Ayamba Ayuk-Brown: Suggest we do that for all outgoing Senators

- Draft Procedure for Absences (Kristy Novak)
  - Stated in the Bylaws: If any member is absent for more than 25% of the yearly scheduled working meeting sessions (July through June), the Executive Committee will notify the member in writing of its recommendation for removal from the Senate.
  - There is currently no transparent procedure for how this is handled. The Executive Committee has developed the following draft for discussion:
    - If a Senator is absent for two meetings, the Executive Committee will reach out via email to notify them of their absences, and that one more absence will result in their removal from the Staff Senate
    - Upon a third absence, the Senator will receive notification that they have been removed from the Staff Senate
    - No difference between excused and un-excused absences
    - Attendance must be in-person
  - Kristy Novak: Keep in mind that we are all voted into these positions and have a responsibility to be present and carry on the business of the Senate. We would like to ensure that a procedure removes subjectivity from the process and that it is fair for all Senators.
  - Discussion:
    - Ayamba Ayuk-Brown: What about a situation with FMLA leave (i.e. timing if out for maternity leave)? Would that be an allowable exception?
    - Shareese Essien: Agree with comment from Ayamba, there should be an allowance for this type of issue. Disagree about there being no difference between excused and unexcused absences. Sometimes meetings must be missed for valid reasons and this could penalize people unfairly.
    - Jill Hamilton: On another commission that I am on, the commission is unable to do business because people don’t show up. People need to be here; they make a commit to represent staff when they run for the position.
    - Riham Keryakos: If we are only looking at the 10 Staff Senate meetings, agree with this draft. However, we should consider the other contributions made by the Senator on committees, etc. This should be considered before removal of Senators.
    - Susan Holt: Suggest considering allowing people to call in, as that would increase the ability to participate.
- Colette Beaulieu: History of this issue in the bylaws: it was written to be vague in the by-laws intentionally to allow the Executive Committee some leeway to take into account the circumstances surrounding the absences. Suggests that the Executive Committee contact the person to assess the circumstances before removing them as members.
- Casey Jackson: Agrees that a call-in option would be helpful.
- Jenn Volberding: Agrees that a call-in option is a good idea. Believes that the proposed procedure is too stringent. The responsibility should be on the individual to step down if they cannot commit, not just on the Executive Committee to determine.
- LaToya Lewis: Agrees that call-in should be allowed; some people travel as part of their job. Could put in writing that Senators should resign if they find they cannot commit to meetings.
- Greg Brightbill:
  - Agrees that call-ins are nice, but could be logistically challenging. As we hold meetings in other spaces, the set up for calls could be very difficult. This diminishes the role of those that are on the phone if they can’t be heard and aren’t able to contribute to the conversation.
  - Need to be aware of individual bias that exists. This impacts decisions about excused/unexcused and surrounding circumstances.
- Mary Beth Gallico: We have job responsibilities that come first and this is a volunteer position. If there is not flexibility, it will be a turn off for people to participate. Serious restrictions without flexibility are not respectful to members.
- Priti Wakefield: For example, I will be out for a meeting due to a vacation that was pre-planned. FMLA is respected by the university and we should respect that too.
- Colette Beaulieu: Excused vs. unexcused could be a sticking point, and there should also be a requirement for notification. There are some circumstances that should be excused.
- Kristy Novak: We will table this discussion until December. The Executive Committee will work on a re-write of the procedure and share back with the Senate.
- Other New Business
  - Staff Senate meeting on December 5th conflicts with President’s Q&A (12/5, 11:30 – 12:30, School of Pharmacy)
    - Suggestion to hold an abbreviated SS meeting so that Senators can attend the Q&A. The Q&A discussion will include results of the Climate and Engagement Survey.
    - Possibly hold the meeting in the School of Pharmacy so that the transition to the meeting would be faster
    - A discussion was held and suggestion made to change the date of the Staff Senate meeting instead of holding an abbreviated meeting on December 5th.
    - A motion was made by Kristy Novak for the Staff Senate meeting on December 5th to be abbreviated (beginning at 12:45 p.m.), encouraging Staff Senators to attend the Q&A (11:30 a.m. – 12:30 p.m.).
      - 2nd by Greg Brightbill
      - Vote: 15 approve; 0 opposed; 2 abstain
• The motion passed; the Executive Committee will confirm the location for the meeting on December 5th
  o LaToya Lewis: If Senators serve on CUSS, do they need to serve on another committee? No, there is not a need to serve on another committee. CUSS is considered a committee.
  o Mary Phelan: Would like for the Staff Senate to consider a discussion about notification of safety issues on campus. The process for notification has changed without input from the staff.
    ▪ Kristy Novak: We can bring this up with Chief Carey and Dawn Rhodes.

    - Provided feedback from staff regarding a perceived lack of transparency when outside consultants conduct a study on campus

    - Dr. Perman agrees that transparency and communication is important, and notes that full results cannot always be shared due to concerns with confidentiality for participants.
  - Discussed the idea of creating Staff Councils in each of the schools on campus
    - Currently only SON and SSW have Staff Councils (SON for many years; SSW just beginning).
